ERELS DETAIN TWENTY-FIVE AMERICANS

S. Consul Is Among Number Held Prisoners in Juarez. Building Two Hours

D $5,000 CHECK TROUBLE

Successes Claim Payment on Paper Given by Railway. Had Been Stopped

JUAREZ, Mexico, July 9.—Twenty-five Americans, including American Consul Thomas D. Edwards, were held in the office of the Mexican Northern railroad here tonight for nearly two hours while an armed guard of 150 men prevented them from leaving the building.

Rebel officials had become angered by the officers of the Mexican Northern on account of the alleged theft of a $5,000 check payable to the rebels as an export duty on a shipment of gold ore by the American Smelting and Refining Co. in El Paso, but which the rebels claimed to cash the $5,000 check to them by the Northwestern office on behalf of the American Smelting and Refining Co. banks in El Paso.

Since the check was given, the rebels had entered American Smelting and Refining immediately stopped payment on the check, and the rebels on account of the check would be unable to obtain further.

Suddenly Surrounded.

American Consul Edwards went to Northwestern offices to confer with H. C. Ferris, general manager of road, Thomas Ryan, traffic manager, and C. T. Carson, general auditor. Officials were in conference at a desk when they suddenly found the office of the building surrounded by 150 men. In the same building were the office of the Waters-Pierce Co. and the American Smelting and Refining Co. The rebels were ordered to leave the building at 6 o'clock. There were 40 persons in the building, but only 10 were allowed to leave.

American Consul Edwards, from the building telephoned for General Pascual Orozco, head of the rebellion, who arrived in a few minutes and ordered the guards to release all minor employees. The office of the road was held. After a conference, the American consul, with the railroad officials, were ordered to leave the building at 7 o'clock. The railroad men were given their liberty and the American side. It was then they agreed to make the check good.

General Orozco declared the railroad men had attempted to cheat the government of money justly due the Mexican Northwestern railroad by British interests.

He was not detained against my will," said American Consul Edwards tonight. "I merely went to the office."

DR. MRS. DECKER IS SENT TO DENVER

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—The body of Dr. Mrs. Decker, who died here after a long illness, was sent to Denver for funeral services.

Funeral services were held in San Francisco. The officers of the local board of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, accompanied by a number of friends, accompanied the body to Oakland. Others in the party were Miss Harriet Platt, Mrs. Decker's daughter, Mrs. Isabella Dunlap, a cousin of the deceased, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Buckwalter, of Springfield, O., and Dr. Cornelius De Bril, all of whom will go to Denver.

Among the club women who paid a tribute to Mrs. Decker when the body was sent away today, were Mrs. F. G. Dennison, president of the local board of the general federation; Mrs. E. Black, Mrs. Frank Fredericks, Mrs. Abbie Krebs and Mrs. J. W. Orr.

GARIBALDI QUILTS FEDERAL FORCES

Refuses to Lead Mexican Soldiers Into What He Considered a Trap

AQUA PRIETA, Chihuahua, July 9.—General Garibaldi, grandson of the famous Italian, and once chief of staff to Madero, today resigned his commission as commander of the volunteers recruited by the Mexican government to repel the rebel invasion of the state of Sonora. The incident revealed the serious plight of the government's defensive campaign in Sonora.

Garibaldi, disagreed with General Augustin Sanjines, commander-in-chief of the zone, as to the best means of keeping General Orozco's rebel army from overrunning Sonora. He declined to consent to a plan which he believed would mean the annihilation of his men.

General Jose de la Luz Blanco, another lieutenant of General Sanjines, is also said to be at odds with the latter and as an additional source of annoyance, it has been discovered that many of the men enlisted on the government side are really rebel organizers.

Eighty Disarmed, Many Desert.

Just how many are disarmed is not known, but thus far 80 have been disarmed while many have deserted. General Garibaldi is en route to Mexico City to argue his case before President Madero.

Only 500 men, it is declared, are left with General Sanjines on the border between the states of Sonora and Chihuahua to check the rebels.

Tonight General Sanjines was at Colonia Morelos, 75 miles southeast of here where the Mormon colony is in daily dread of rebel ravages. The Mormons have sent for some of their nearest chiefs in the United States to advise them as to the best manner of defense without precipitating international complications.

The Mormon colonists today gathered their arms and ammunition where they will resist attack, according to Mrs. Langdon, a Mormon from Colonia Morelos, who arrived here tonight.

Cannot Run Away, So Will Fight.

"Our people will not be fooled," he said in explaining the attitude of the Mormons. "All we have in the world is our stock and crops. We cannot run away so we will fight. All we ask is to be left alone. We have faith that the Mexican government will protect us. We want all the federal soldiers fighting but if they cannot defend us, we will defend ourselves. Some of our stock already has been stolen by bandits and some of our men have been killed since the revolution began and we are against a wall. We have sent a formal request to the rebels not to enter our colony or molest us."

Not only the Americans in the Mormon colonies, however, have armed themselves for defense but the big mining camps at El Tigre and Nacozari have employed guards and are determined to protect their properties.

Rebels Control Part of State.

With General Sanjines at Colonia Morelos the Mormons feel somewhat secure but only 35 miles south at Bavispe is the rebel vanguard under Colonel Garcia. While the insurgent main column under General Emilio Campa is moving from Casas Grandes, 110 miles due east of Bavispe. General Sanjines has received orders to attack the rebels at Bavispe but he may have to fall back to defend Agua Prieta, the border town, which is menaced by approaching rebel bands.

The occupation of Granados, about 50 miles south of Bavispe, by the rebels and T. Granados, 50 miles further south, indicates that the insurgents already control a part of the state of Sonora.

Federals Confiscate Horses.

A number of teams and wagons belonging to the Mormon colonists at Colonia Morelos, were confiscated today by federal troops under General Sanjines, despite the protest of the colonists. Bishop Luythwhite today called to Sonora. Took a boat at Wallington and was advised to give up the teams and take a receipt from General Sanjines. This was done and payment was promised.

Several of the Mormon farmers escaped from Colonia Morelos with their teams and are in Agua Prieta. They tried to cross to the United States, but were prevented by federal guards. The column under General Sanjines has been reinforced by 200 federal volunteers from the Galeana district. This is the same company that fought the rebels near Pearson on the Mexican Northwestern three weeks ago and bringing the federal force up to nearly 1,600.

A rebel force of 300 is reported at Bavispe under Colonel Garcia. Scout parties of rebels are also reported near Nacozari and Granados. In the state of Sonora.

SUPPOSED PLAQUE IN TWO COUNTRIES

SANTIAGO, Cuba, July 9.—One supposed case of bubonic plague was discovered here today. The patient, a Spanish boy, was ordered removed to the quarantine station for observation.

MEXICO CITY, July 9.—Quarantine regulations against Havana and Porto Rico became effective today at Mexican Gulf ports. Traffic with the state of Yucatan will be conducted through the port of Vera Cruz only because of the absence of quarantine stations on the peninsula.

EXCITED ATTORNEYS DARROW CASE FINED

Opposing Counsel Clash Over Form of Question Put to Witness Harriman

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—Scenes of disorder marked the closing hours of today's session of the trial of Clarence S. Darrow, accused of having bribed jurors in the McNamara case. Opposing counsel precipitated the trouble, which centered around Job Harriman, called as a witness for the defense. Chief Counsel Rogers for the defense and Assistant District Attorney Ford for the prosecution, both were fined for contempt, but the fines were remitted.

The question at issue was whether the section of the statute regarding immunity should be read into the record, as requested by the prosecution. The witness smilingly waived all legal rights to immunity, but Mr. Darrow, in the most impassioned manner he has used since the trial was begun, objected, and asserted that Harriman had come as a witness voluntarily, and the district attorney's course was an insult to the witness. There were verbal clashes between Darrow and Ford. District Attorney Fredericks denied any intent to insult the witness, while Attorney Appel for the defense asserted the prosecutor was seeking to brand the witness as a criminal.

Judge Hutton finally denied the application of the prosecution and order was restored for a moment. Then Attorney Rogers propounded a long question, reciting in brief the testimony of Franklin which involved the witness. Attorney Ford was on his feet before the question was completed, protesting against the form of the interrogation. Both lawyers were immediately shouting loudly. Finally Rogers finished the question.

Judge Hutton reprimanded both attorneys for what he called their boisterous conduct, and adjudged them in contempt of court. Rogers was fined $10 and Ford $25. The latter protested that he had a right to purge himself of contempt before being punished and both fines were remitted after the lawyers had apologized.

Contradicts Franklin's Testimony.

Harriman, who was the Socialist candidate for mayor of Los Angeles last fall as well as an associate counsel in the McNamara case, was called to the stand after the reading of more than a score of depositions by Chicago character witnesses, largely commending the accused. He contradicted the testimony of Bert H. Franklin, which seemingly involved Harriman in the attempt to bribe jurors in the McNamara case. He denied that he had given Darrow the $4,000 which Franklin confessed having used to corrupt George N. Lockwood, or that he had even seen Franklin or Darrow on the morning of that day.

MANY DEATHS FROM THE HEAT IN BIG CITIES

PHILADELPHIA, July 9.—Heat caused the death of three persons in this city today and was indirectly responsible for three others committing suicide. During the last week 31 persons have died from the present torrid wave.

BOSTON, July 9.—One death and 10 prostrations due to heat were reported in Boston up to noon today, the hottest of the year. At noon the official thermometer registered 97 degrees.

MONTREAL, July 9.—There were two deaths from the heat here today and scores of prostrations. The thermometer registered 90.

CINCINNATI, July 9.—The first fatality of the heat wave here was reported today.

CHICAGO, July 9.—Chicago's hot wave continued unabated today. Nine deaths and 21 prostrations were reported to the police. The mercury reached 91.

FORMER U. S. DISTRICT ATTORNEY UNDER FIRE

ROSE, Ida, July 9.—United States District Attorney C. H. Linsenfelter was brought under fire today by the filing of a complaint with a United States commissioner charging him with receiving compensation for acting as attorney in a case in which the government was interested. Former Deputy District Attorney Van Haebrouck, the complaining witness, alleged that Linsenfelter secured patents for a mining company to valuable claims.

REPUBLICANS ALL OVER STATE WANT ROOSEVELT

Strongly Favor Nomination of Stewart for Governor on Regular Organization Ticket. No Third Party Demanded Just Now

Indoubtedly Stewart headquarters is the most interesting point politically in Colorado at this time. Hundreds of letters are received every day, some of them in reply to inquiries sent out by Mr. Stewart, others volunteered by his friends in every section of Colorado. One thing is manifestly plain, and that is that Mr. Stewart is conducting his campaign along lines close to the people. He has insisted upon presenting the sentiment of the people on subjects bearing upon his candidacy.

The tone of the letters received are indicative of the feeling in the state. On condition that the names of the writers should not be used, permission was granted to use the following extracts from letters from the various counties named, showing the essential differences in opinion existing.

Jefferson county: "Take the privilege of writing you, as I desire to endorse your political stand and your candidacy for governor. I think our regular Republican state convention will surely be strongly for Roosevelt, provided the matter is properly gotten before the Republican voters in the different counties before the county assemblies are held. With Roosevelt electors on the ticket and yourself as our nominee for governor, we will win in this state. Jefferson county Republicans are progressive. In conclusion, I feel confident the desired results can be obtained by the proper use of existing Republican machinery in Colorado. There is no necessity for a third party in this state."

Staunch G. O. P. Wants Change.

Fremont county: "I am greatly interested in the Progressive Republican movement. I have been a Republican supporter all my life, but I think now it is time for a change. There is quite a number here who will welcome a change. The action of the Chicago convention does not meet with our approval. Anything I can do to forward the Progressive movement I will be glad to do. I have lived here since 1888 and am well acquainted here, and have taken an active interest in party movement locally."

Sedgewick county: "After a poll of the men at Ord on July 4, I can form but one opinion, and that is national."

La Plata county: "I mailed a card that I think expressed the opinion of the majority of Republicans of the county, and yet it seems to me that some plan should be pursued, by which the Progressives will retain their numbers in the state central committee so that they will be prepared for future contingencies that may arise. I have talked with quite a number of Republicans in Durango as well as in this county as to your candidacy for governor and with but few exceptions they were for you."

Against Taft: Wants T. R.

PROHIBITIONISTS MAY SUBSTITUTE PRACTICAL POLITICS FOR "CHURCH"

CONVENTION HALL, ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 9.—A presidential nomination boom based on a new issue that would substitute practical politics for "church politics" in the prohibition movement, was started here tonight on the eve of the prohibition national convention.

Finel C. Hendrickson of Cumberland, Md., was launched as a candidate for the presidential nomination by the Maryland delegation, which will appear for his selection on a broad platform, and especially urging that there be more earnest appeal for votes outside the churches and that less of the energy of the party be expended in "howling for the church vote."

Mr. Hendrickson, who is a member of the prohibition party executive committee, is a strong advocate of more practical politics in the prohibition movement.

The entrance in the presidential race of Mr. Hendrickson probably will result in the elimination of Joshua Levering of Baltimore, prohibition candidate in 1898, who has been mentioned as a probability this time.

Another tangible boom for the party was precipitated at a reception to the delegates today when the Massachusetts delegation arrived with friends and banners proclaiming "Chauncey and Watkins for 1912," the party ticket in 1908. A movement to establish a scientific section of the prohibition party was instituted tonight. The scientific section would group popularize and make available the mass of facts as to alcohol brought out by laboratory, statistical and sociological studies.

DR. JEFFERSON AFTER DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION

DENVER, July 9.—Dr. R. L. Jefferson, member of the state land board, tonight announced that he will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor. He returned tonight from the east, where he visited Governor Woodrow Wilson. The presidential nominee, through Dr. Jefferson, sent his thanks to the people of Colorado for their help in securing his nomination. Dr. Jefferson was given a reception by the Jefferson Democratic club, organized to promote his candidacy.

Plans for State Convention by Progressives Provide for 451 Delegates

DENVER, July 9.—Plans for calling the state convention by Progressives have been perfected, and provided for delegates. According to E. P. Conigan, the call will be issued tomorrow, and the convention held in Denver probably July 29. The program includes the nomination of a complete state ticket to be put on the ballot by petition. An invitation will be extended to all Progressives, whether Republicans or Democrats, to join the movement in Colorado.

VOTE ON LORIMER DELAYED

WASHINGTON, July 9.—After an ineffectual attempt to conclude consideration of the case against William Lorimer of Illinois, the senate this afternoon recessed until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning to allow Mr. Lorimer an opportunity to close his own defense. Just before the day's session ended, the senate voted on the verge of a vote on the resolution declaring the Lorimer case moot, but an agreement was reached allowing further debate tomorrow.

$500,000 LOSS BY FIRE

WATERTOWN, N. Y., July 9.—Thousand Islands park was swept this afternoon and tonight by a disastrous fire, which wiped out practically the entire business section, the Columbian hotel, the New York state educational buildings, and 50 cottages. The loss is estimated, with a few exceptions, at $500,000. No lives were lost.

JUDICIAL CONDUCT HANFORD TAKEN UP

House Judiciary Subcommittee Probes Actions in Bankruptcy Case

SEATTLE, Wash., July 9.—The judicial conduct of Federal Judge H. Hanford as the bankruptcy trustee of Heekin and Hanson occupied the time today in the house judiciary subcommittee hearing to determine whether impeachment proceedings should be taken against the judge. Attorney Jerry Landon Finch, the complaining witness, was on the stand all day. Finch, who will conclude his evidence tomorrow, accuses Judge Hanford of an unethical conduct in his refusal to open the estate of the bankrupt firm and in the whole conduct of the case. Incidental to the bankruptcy case, Richard A. Ballinger, former secretary of the interior, appeared first as attorney for the maker of a note and shortly afterward as counsel for a bank that foreclosed a mortgage by which the note was secured.

In a discussion over the admission of evidence Chairman Gorman of the committee said:

"We are not bound to take all the testimony offered. We are not a court; we are much more in the nature of a grand jury. We seek incriminating evidence with a view to determining if there is ground for impeachment. We permit Judge Hanford's counsel to offer a defense here, as a matter of right, but of course."

Beginning tomorrow night the committee will hold night sessions.

GOES FIVE MILES AGAINST TIME IN 4:48 MINUTES

Fritch, Driving a Cino, at Portland, Breaks World's Record—Probable Fatal Accident Mars Meet.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 9.—One world's record was broken and generally fast time was made today in the two days' Automobile Racing Association. Fritch, driving a Cino, went five miles against time in 4:48, thus upsetting the record of Hughie Hughes at Brighton Beach, July 4, 1911, for cars of 300 cubic inches displacement or under. Hughes' time was 4:54.

The day was marred by one serious, and perhaps fatal, accident. In the big five-mile race for all for a $5000 trophy, Chris Dundee, a local driver, who was piloting a White steamer, went over a 30-foot bank. The machine was completely wrecked; Dundee's face was crushed, both legs and two ribs broken, and he suffered numerous minor injuries.

Fritch, who was the star performer of the day, took this event with his Cino. Teddy Tetzlaff, in a Fiat, was well upon Fritch when Dundee's mishap occurred, but a crowd which flocked onto the track compelled him to slow down, destroying whatever chance he might have had of taking first place. As it was, he came in second, with Verbeck, also in a Fiat, a close third. Fritch's time in this event was 4:56.

The first event, five-mile trophy for heavy cars, was filled with bad luck for Heinemann, who was driving Barney Oldfield's big Benz. Magneto troubles drove him out. Fritch in the Cino, who was his only opponent, won both times, 5:21-2.5 and 5:00-3-5.

Teddy Tetzlaff had a walkaway in a second five-mile trophy for all for a $5000 trophy, and finished second and third, respectively, almost abreast. All the cars were Fiats. Tetzlaff's time was 4:50.

In the five-mile event for heavy cars, Tetzlaff finished with a good margin to spare, in 4:47.

Several motorcycle races were run. Barretta on a Flying Merkle, drove one mile in 53 seconds, breaking the amateur record for the distance on a dirt track.

Objection to Moving Liberty Bell to Coast

PHILADELPHIA, July 9.—Opposition was heard in the city hall today to granting the request that the Liberty Bell be placed on exhibition at the Panama-Pacific exposition, in San Francisco in 1915. One of those opposed to it is the chief of the bureau of city property, which has charge of the bell. The question of taking the bell out of the city rests entirely with the city council.

ATTEMPT TO STEAL RIDE IN TOOL BOX COSTS MAN'S LIFE

TRINIDAD, July 9.—The body of a man identified as Mike Smoot of Edwardsville, Pa., was found today in the tool box of a Colorado & Southern engine, into which, it is believed, he had crawled to catch a ride. The box was locked, and he could not get out.

WISCONSIN MAN NEW HEAD ELKS

THOMAS B. MILLS GRAND EXALTED RULER

Reports of Retiring Officers Show Order to Be in Fine Condition and Growing

PORTLAND, Ore., June 9.—The first business sessions of the Elks convention opened today with 141 accredited delegates. The convention was animated with the moment the doors opened and they crossed this evening. For more than half an hour before the session convened, the numerous delegations, nursing rooms of various kinds, raised pandemonium in the great hall. Finally, Grand Exalted Ruler Sullivan rapped for order.

The first order of business was the reading of the reports of the retiring officers. The officers elected were: Grand exalted ruler, Thomas B. Mills, Superior, Wis.; grand esteemed leading knight, James L. King, Topeka, Kan.; grand esteemed touring knight, Lloyd R. Maxwell, Marshalltown, Ia.; grand secretary, Fred C. Robinson, Dubuque, Ia.; grand trustee, John J. Paulkner, East St. Louis, Ill.; grand inner guard, John Lee Clark, Albuquerque, N. M.; grand clerk, Patrick H. Shields, Clarkburg, W. Va.; Rochester, N. Y., was selected by acclamation for the 1913 convention.

Sullivan Urges New Home.

Among the principal themes dwelt upon by Grand Exalted Ruler John P. Sullivan in his annual report were the new Elks national home, which he strongly urged should be built at once. Exalted Ruler Sullivan is vigorously opposed to any changes in the ritual as it now stands.

The grand exalted ruler gives serious consideration to the new Elks national home project in Virginia. He points out the gravity of the situation which calls for the construction of an institution, which cannot be built for less than $200,000 and for which about $80,000 is available. The commission which had the matter of the home in charge cannot construct and furnish the home on plans submitted by the architects for less than $200,000 with large additional amounts required for the equipment of the kitchen and laundry, the installation of engines and boilers and for the furnishing of the home.

Of the proposed tuberculosis sanatorium the exalted ruler said:

"It is my thought that at the present time the grand lodge, now that it is erecting a new Elks national home, is not in a position to attempt to construct a tuberculosis sanatorium."

One important recommendation of the exalted ruler is that hereafter the federal census only be used as a basis for granting dispensations to new lodges, but that the population required be reduced from 5,000 to 2,000. He favors, however, that a state census show a city of 3,000 population.

"METHODIST DAY" HERE ON AUGUST 6

With a great gathering of Methodists from all parts of the south and west, "Methodist day" will be observed for the first time in the Rocky Mountain region, at Colorado Springs, Tuesday, August 6.

The initial features of the plan were outlined at a called meeting of the Pikes Peak Methodist union, held at the first Methodist church last Saturday evening. Committees are being appointed, and the work already is under way for one of the most important and attractive days in the history of the Methodist churches of Colorado and the central west.

This is an entirely new venture in the west, but it has developed to magnificent proportions in many eastern cities. The idea originated in the fertile brain of Bishop Vincent, and the first "Methodist day" was held 20 years ago on the historic grounds near Chautauque Lake, New York.

Special features for the day include addresses by great leaders in Methodism, where an unusual freedom of intercourse prevails, and the mingling of all Methodists of the region, facilitating the renewal of old acquaintances and the making of many new friends.

Colorado's first "Methodist day" has an advantage over eastern cities in that no less than 3,000 tourist Methodists from all parts of the Union will join with the Colorado members in making the day memorable.

An executive committee of five has been appointed to have general supervision of the plans, as follows: M. P. Yates, Mr. Kaitenban, Mr. E. Van Buren, Mr. A. Dunn and Judge W. S. Morris. The Rev. W. E. Bennett is chairman of the publicity committee, which has been completed by two letters of Rev. F. W. W. H. Carrington, of Frank, Pa. Barnett and Mr. E. H. Hollenbeck. Appointments of other committees will be announced shortly.

The Chamber of Commerce has promised to cooperate with the various committees to make this one of the most prominent days to be observed in the Pikes Peak region this summer.

Northwestern officers to investigate their trouble with the treatment of the American Smelting and Refining Company's check for export duty. I was in conference with the railroad officials when we decided to call on Colonel Rogers. The armed guards who were placed at each exit to the building, said they would permit me to pass but not the railroad officials, so we went back into the office and telephoned to Colonel Rogers to come and see us.

Mr. Edwards declined to inform Colonel Rogers that the Northwestern officials had informed Mr. Carson, the attorney who presented the check to the office, and advised them of their duties. He said that the check had been refused payment because it failed to have the endorsement of a customs broker in El Paso designated by the American Smelting and Refining Co. The Northwestern officials promised to obtain the required signature for the check. It is reported that the customs brokers acted upon instructions from the American consular in Chihuahua in withholding his signature.

The accident followed the failure of the Hutchinson automobile to climb a steep hill, the machine backing down and getting beyond control. Dr. Hutchinson was a well-known physician of Denver.

SPRINGS PEOPLE IN MOFFAT ROAD WRECK

In a passenger train wreck on the Moffat road about 100 miles west of Denver last night which had not fatal intervened, would have been fatal to practically everyone on board, six Colorado Springs people barely escaped with their lives. They were: A. B. Finn, of 1620 North Nevada Avenue; Mrs. Hoagland, wife of Dr. Henry W. Hoagland, of 808 North Nevada Avenue and her three children and maid. None of the passengers was seriously injured.

The train was running at a high rate of speed around a curve when the rails sprang, and the entire train ran along the ties for about 500 feet when it suddenly swerved into the mountain side. In a telephone message to The Gazette last night, Mr. Finn said:

"If the train had swayed to the right side of the curve when it made its last plunge it would have dropped over the embankment into the Grand river more than 50 feet below."

"Killing" almost everybody on board. As it was no one was seriously injured although all of us were badly frightened."

A wrecking crew was sent out to the scene of the accident and it required six hours of hard work to get the track cleared.

Order Making Great Headway.

Or the growth of the order the exalted ruler says:

"The spirit of Elkdom is spreading over our entire country, and each year adds thousands to the roster of our membership."

The exalted ruler recommends the compulsory and fitting observance of the "11 o'clock hour" in all lodges nightly. "This hour," he stated, "recalls our absent brothers, and no greater respect or tribute to them can be shown than to put out all lights, toll the 'chimes' and someone from among those present recite the 11 o'clock address and all present sing the verses of 'Auld Lang Syne.'"

The problem of pensions is discussed by Mr. Sullivan at length. He recommends that pensions be granted widows of past grand exalted rulers in the sum of $600 a year.

The exalted ruler denounced the use of the lodge emblem for commercial and advertising purposes and recommends that other than official emblems be not worn by members of the order. He also urged the members of the order to solicit congressional support of a measure aimed at negro pretenders of the Elks order.

Property Valued at $20,391,832.45.

According to the annual report of Grand Secretary Fred C. Robinson, the total valuation of property owned by the subordinate lodges at the close of the fiscal year, March 31, was $20,391,832.45, which, according to the report, makes the order the wealthiest in America. Portland lodge No. 112 is the richest lodge in Elkdom, reporting a $1,000,000.00 margin and all other subordinate lodges in the order, its assets being $315,054.31. New York lodge second with $355,000.40. The next eight in order are Brooklyn, $247,153; Sacramento, $182,506; Youngstown, $175,466; San Francisco, $173,561; Jacksonville, Fla., $165,927; Spokane, $163,874; Seattle, $142,678; Philadelphia, $138,024. There are 21 lodges in the order whose assets exceed $100,000.

The total membership in the order as shown by Secretary Robinson's report is 381,724, a net increase of 25,065 in the past year.

The total receipts of the grand lodge from all sources exceeded those of previous years in the amount of $49,241. The total disbursements were $46,335.

The grand lodge received $4,000 from the subordinate lodges from all sources, $7,925.13; amount expended $7,829.45, leaving a balance on hand of $1,156.28.

29 New Lodges During Year.

During the year 29 new lodges were instituted. The report shows 31 lodges with a membership of over 1,000. Brooklyn, No. 22, shows the record of the best growth. This lodge received 1,694 applications, and admits a total of $171,000.00. Lodges receiving the most applications were approximately $50 to be initiated by the incoming exalted ruler. Atlanta, Cal., takes second and Birmingham, Wash., third.

REPUBLICANS ALL OVER

Your postal of the 28th ult. would beg to say that I have made a pretty thorough canvass of the Republicans in our precinct, also in this community. I reported that great dissatisfaction at Taft's nomination, as thousands of the Republicans were in favor of Roosevelt, yet at the same time from what I can gather a large majority are not in favor of a third party at this time. Neither Roosevelt or Taft could carry this county as it is Democratic. In case a third party should be launched, I doubt whether they would get together on local or national issues. The Republicans here are much at sea, and hardly know what course to pursue. Will probably vote for Taft in preference to Wilson. Mesa county: "I received your card a few days ago, and will answer to the best of my ability. The people are not satisfied with Taft's nomination. He cannot carry this county. Do not believe in third party at this time, unless forced into it. Roosevelt elected will beat Taft electors by far."

BABY NEEDS WATCHING IN SUMMER TIME

Their Little Stomachs Get Out of Order Easily in Hot Weather

Mothers should watch closely the condition of the children's bowels, babies especially. Keep the bowels free and much of the illness to which children are most susceptible in summer can be prevented.

The most prevalent symptoms are constipation and diarrhoea. When these occur, the mother can feel that the child is in trouble and makes your little one feverish and fretful, with a feeling of heaviness or languor, try giving it a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at bedtime. By morning this plunging, and the mother will be greatly relieved. This simple, natural remedy is also invaluable in checking summer diarrhoea. By thorough cleansing of the bowels, the mother and physician are eliminated. Don't torture the child with harsh cathartics, purgatives or dangerous remedies, that upset the delicate system, and at best only relieve temporarily. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, while positive in its effect, acts gently and without griping or discomfort, restoring normal conditions.

In giving Syrup Pepsin to a child, the mother can feel perfectly safe, as it contains no opiates or narcotic drugs, being a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. By carrying off the disordered tissues of mucous membrane that inflame the walls of the bowels, it will quickly break the "summer cold" that is so annoying. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold by druggists for 50 cents a bottle; the larger family size, one dollar. A free trial bottle will be sent upon receipt of a letter to Dr. W. R. Caldwell, 406 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

Understand Me—Not for Taft.

Understand me, we are not going to vote for Taft, but will vote for Roosevelt in November. Do not think it good politics to declare ourselves for Roosevelt, unless we are stonewalled in county assembly or state convention or both. We are progressive, and are going to vote that way from president down. I expect to be the progressive candidate for sheriff, and am fairly well posted on the general sentiment. We are for Stewart strong, but we can work the progressive movement, and still remain in the old party, especially in Colorado."

Della county: "I want to congratulate you for the stand you have taken regarding the formation of a third party. I am a Republican and think that if things are not right, that we should try to correct them in our own party. However, we may disagree about the presidential electors. We ought to get together on state and county tickets. I will be glad to support you for governor, and would like to see John Rainer nominated again for secretary of state. Under the circumstances do I want to see the Democrats win out this year. I think present administration started a disgrace."

GOMPERS MEETS WILSON

TRENTON, N. J., July 2.—Gov. Woodrow Wilson was in conference for more than an hour this afternoon with Samuel Gompers and other officials of the American Federation of Labor.

After the meeting, Mr. Gompers said: "We discussed with the governor the platform adopted by the National convention and expressed ourselves as being in entire accord with the platform which apply to legislation affecting the rights of the working people."

"I think the platform goes as far as a great political party can declare under present industrial and political conditions—that is, with any degree of assurance of being enacted into law."

Mr. Gompers said that he and his colleagues were acting as "envoys of the American laboring men." When he was asked whether the federation of labor would support the Democratic ticket, he said: "We are going to report to our colleagues and they will make a declaration or authorize us to make it."

He described the Republican platform as "a magnificent piece of literary production and punctuation, but inferior as it affects the working people and their rights, it is conspicuously lacking."

FORMER COLORADO WOMAN DIES IN LOS ANGELES

Mrs. Chappell will be buried at Kalamazoo, Mich.

EARLY SIGNS OF HAY FEVER

Rose Fever and June Colds Appear. Ascatto, Famous Asthma and Hay Fever Remedy, Should Be Taken Now.

PREVENTS LATER ATTACKS

Rose Fever and June Colds, which are really mild forms of hay fever, have already appeared as forerunners of the hay fever season. They should be checked at once by the use of Ascatto, the famous asthma and hay fever remedy. Persons who have been attacked by these ailments in former seasons, by using Ascatto, should be forewarned and begin the treatment this year well in advance of the expected attack. Hay Fever is thus ward off, free breathing is assured and the season may be passed without distress. Subjects who also suffer from asthma will find Ascatto largely beneficial.

The spring edition of Dr. Robinson's book, "The Asthma and Hay Fever Cure," are supplied with both the 25c size and the 50c size bottle (for trial and mild attacks). If you are subject to hay fever or asthma, be sure to obtain a sample of Ascatto which will be sent by mail free of charge to anyone who will write to the Ascatto Laboratory, 32 West 25th Street, New York City.

NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSN. VOTES ON CHARGES OF ELECTION FRAUDS

CHICAGO, July 2.—Open charges that, at the Boston convention, two years ago, when Mrs. Ella Flagg Young of Chicago was elected president, the rolls were "stuffed," that teachers were enrolled as active members, credited from Chicago schools, when they lived in other states, and that their dues were paid by Chicago principals to insure more votes for Mrs. Young, were voted upon by the National Education association today.

The board of directors unanimously adopted a resolution that all references to the charges should be "expunged from the records, without impugning the motives or impeaching the character of anyone."

The election of officers is to take place tomorrow, and the selection of a meeting place for next year, on Thursday.

Plan to Petition Taft to Withdraw a "Flash in Pan"

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The scheme of Republican members in the house of representatives to launch a fresh campaign against President Taft by means of a petition asking him to withdraw as the Republican nominee proved a "flash in the pan" today. When pinned down to it, the members who had participated in the conference which developed the idea hastily joined the "don't mention my name" club. Those who started the movement abandoned their efforts to show the participation of the regular Republicans and it was apparent there was little support coming from that direction.

Only one of the participants in the formal conference, Representative John R. Reese of Kansas, publicly admitted his share in the proceedings. He said he had a petition aimed at Mr. Taft, and he made a public, coupled with the following statement:

"My scheme was to appeal to Mr. Taft's patriotism and well-known love for party solidarity. To be successful my petition would necessarily have to be presented to him by those who were his political adherents at the time he sought the nomination."

Wanted to Perfect Plans First.

"I did not intend that the press should get hold of this scheme until I had a fair opportunity to try it out, but since it has become known, I prefer that a correct version be given. I had not proceeded far enough to solicit any signatures and had submitted the plan to several colleagues for suggestions."

The heading of Mr. Reese's petition recited the charges of fraudulent nomination against President Taft, freely made by the supporters of Colonel Roosevelt. It proceeded on a new tack, however, by asserting that whether the charges were false or true, they would affect the election, and that in the minds of Progressive Republicans they would result in Republican defeat.

The petition of Mr. Reese has been adopted by the insurgents. While some were of the opinion that premature publicity had killed the scheme, others, thought differently and all concluded it would be best to hold another conference when more insurgent leaders are in Washington.

HILLES BECOMES HEAD TAFT POLITICAL SHIP. "SPEAKS" FOR PARTY

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The campaign for the reelection of President Taft will be formally launched tomorrow in New York. James B. Reynolds of Massachusetts, who today was named as secretary of the Republican National committee, will do the launching and C. D. Hilles, President Taft's secretary, who was selected chairman of the national committee, will join him in New York Monday to help sail the political ship.

Mr. Hilles issued a statement tonight declaring the confidence of the Republican party in his cause and its candidates. It follows, in part:

"The Republican party approaches the presidential campaign with confidence in the solemnity of its cause and in the integrity and ability of the candidates who represent that cause. Progress with order is good doctrine for the Republican party today, as it has been since the day of its birth."

"Real progress is not a theory but an achievement. More has been accomplished in the last three years under the administration of President Taft than was ever before accomplished by an American president in the same time."

Distinct Line of Demarcation.

A distinct line of demarcation between the Republican party and the Democratic party is revealed in the platforms adopted at Chicago and Baltimore.

"Upon the solid rock of the rights of the individual, as granted by the constitution, the Republican party builds its structure of optimism. The Democratic party, on the other hand, in the opening sentence of its address to the electorate, betrays its recessional quality by denying the right of Congress a right again and again confirmed by the supreme court, to establish protective duties for the benefit of American industries."

"Such liberties are now assailed by those who advocate the overthrow of the independence of the judiciary. It would leave the individual defenseless in the protection of these rights declared inalienable under the constitution."

WIFE SAYS HENNING'S SUIT IS A CONSPIRACY

CHICAGO, July 2.—Mrs. Josephine Henning testified before the grand jury today that the suit for $25,000 brought by her husband, John C. Henning, against Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester company, for alleged alienation of her affections, was a conspiracy.

The jury heard testimony that Mrs. Henning testified before the grand jury today that the suit for $25,000 brought by her husband, John C. Henning, against Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester company, for alleged alienation of her affections, was a conspiracy.

Slight Accident Mars Second Day's Session of Convention, When Woman Speaker Falls From Platform.

LOS ANGELES, July 2.—Marred by a slight accident, the second day's session of the convention of the National Municipal league was held here today.

The accident occurred in the parallel meeting of the women this afternoon when Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane of Kalamazoo, Mich., who was scheduled to speak on "Municipal Housekeeping," fell from the platform from which she started to talk. While the accident prevented her from making her speech, she was not seriously injured. William Dudley Foulke was reelected president. Miss Jane Addams of Chicago, Camillus G. Kidder of Orange, N. J., President Lowell of Harvard university, Charles McPherson of New York and George Richardson of Philadelphia were selected vice presidents. New vice presidents chosen were Chester H. # Address by the Secretary.

Aside from the election of officers, the day's proceedings included an address by the secretary of the organization, Clinton Rogers Woodruff of Philadelphia, who took as his subject, "Simplicity, Publicity and Efficiency in Municipal Affairs." He discussed tendencies which in the last year have been, he said, particularly manifested in the development of municipal affairs in the United States.

Prof. William Bennett Munro of Cambridge, Mass., assistant professor of government at Harvard university, made an address on "Commission Government for Large Cities," giving attention to the application of the principles involved to the larger urban communities.

REBELS DETAIN

Northwestern offices to investigate their trouble over the payment of the American Smelting and Refining company's check for export duty. I was in conference with the railroad officials when we decided to call on Colonel Orozco. The armed guards who were placed at all exits to the building said they would permit me to pass but not the railroad officials. We went back into the office and telephoned to Colonel Orozco to come and see us.

Mr. Edwards declared he informed Colonel Orozco that the Northwestern officials, including Mr. Carson, the auditor who presented the check to the rebels, had performed their duties properly and were blameless. Mr. Edwards explained that the check had been refused payment because it failed to have the endorsement of a customs broker in El Paso designated by the American Smelting and Refining Co. The Northwestern officials promised to obtain the required signature for the rebels. It is reported that the customs broker acted upon instructions from the American Smelting and Refining Co. in withholding his signature.

DOCTOR AND WIFE KILLED WHEN AUTO TURNS TURTLE

DENVER, July 9.—Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Hutchinson were killed when their automobile turned turtle in Platte canyon near Pine Creek today. Dr. Hutchinson's head was crushed when the machine turned over, while Mrs. Hutchinson was thrown into the Platte river and drowned. The accident followed the failure of the Hutchinson automobile to climb a steep hill, the machine backing down grade and getting beyond control. Dr. Hutchinson was a well-known physician of Denver.

SPRINGS PEOPLE IN MOFFAT ROAD WRECK

In a passenger train wreck on the Moffat road about 100 miles west of Denver last night which had not late intervened, would have been fatal to practically everyone on board, six Colorado Springs people barely escaped with their lives. They were: O. B. Finn of 1620 North Nevada avenue, Mrs. Hongland, wife of Dr. Henry W. Hongland of 808 North Nevada avenue and her three children and maid. None of the passengers was seriously injured.

The train was running at a high rate of speed around a curve when the rails spread, and the entire train ran along the ties for about 600 feet when it suddenly swerved into the mountain side. In a telephone message to The Gazette last night, Mr. Finn said:

"If the train had swayed to the outside of the curve when it made its last plunge it would have dropped over the embankment into the Grand river more than 50 feet below. Killing almost everybody on board. As it was no one was seriously injured although all of us were badly frightened."

A wrecking crew was sent out to the scene of the accident and it required six hours of hard work to get the track cleared.

that such city be permitted to have a charter.

Order Making Great Headway.

Of the growth of the order the exalted ruler says:

"The spirit of Elldom is spreading over our entire country, and each year adds thousands to the roster of our membership."

The exalted ruler recommends the compulsory and fitting observance of the "11 o'clock hour" in all lodges nightly.

"This hour," he stated, "is a call to our absent brothers, and no greater respect or tribute to them can be shown than to put out all lights, toll the chains and someone from among those present recite the 11 o'clock toast, and all present sing the verses of 'Auld Lang Syne.'"

The problem of pensions is discussed by Mr. Sullivan at length. He recommends that pensions be granted widows of past grand exalted rulers in the sum of $600 a year.

The exalted ruler denounced the use of the lodge emblem for commercial and advertising purposes and recommended that other than official emblems be not worn by members of the order. He also urged the members of the order to solicit congressional support of a measure aimed at negro pretenders of the Elks' order.

Property Valued at $20,391,832.45.

According to the annual report of Grand Secretary Fred C. Robinson, the total valuation of property owned by the subordinate lodges at the close of the fiscal year, March 31, was $20,391,832.45, which, according to the report, makes the order the wealthiest in America. Portland lodge No. 142, is the richest lodge in Elldom, surpassing by a goodly margin all other subordinate bodies in the order. Its assets being $345,084.61. New York comes second with $235,700.49. The next eight in order are Brooklyn, $247,155; Sacramento, $183,806; Youngstown, O., $175,466; San Francisco, $173,861; Jacksonville, Fla., $168,927; Spokane, $164,874; Seattle, $142,578; Philadelphia, $138,024. There are 21 lodges in the order whose assets exceed $100,000.

The total membership in the order as shown by Secretary Robinson's report is 33,724, a net increase of 25,663 in the past year.

The total receipts of the grand lodge from all sources exceeded those of previous years in the amount of $27,241. The total disbursements was $105,304. The surplus on hand amounts to $406,535. The total amount received by subordinate lodges from all sources was $7,233,134; amount expended, $7,539,489, leaving a balance on hand of $1,758,293.

29 New Lodges During Year.

During the year 29 new lodges were instituted. The report shows, 31 lodges with a membership of over 2,000. Brooklyn, No. 22, shows the record of the best growth. This lodge received 1,694 applications and demits and a total of 814 were initiated, making the present total 3,893, leaving approximately 850 to be initiated by the incoming exalted ruler, Alameda, Cal., takes second and Bellingham, Wash., third.

Secretary Robinson's report shows that since 1880, the order has disbursed for charitable purposes a total of $4,200,000, which, $487,693, is credited to the past year. New York No. 1 holds first place in this respect with a disbursement of $9,187.

Tonight the principal feature of the entertainment program was an illuminated parade. At midnight several hundred local and visiting newspaper men sat down to a "beefsteak breakfast," the guests of the Portland Elks.

REPUBLICANS ALL OVER

Your postal of the 25th ult. would be to say that I have made a pretty thorough canvass of the Republicans in our precinct, also in this community in general, and find great dissatisfaction at Taft's nomination, as nine-tenths of the Republicans were in favor of Roosevelt, yet at the same time from what I can gather a large majority are not in favor of a third party at this time. Neither Roosevelt or Taft could carry this county as it is Democratic. In case a third party should be launched, I doubt whether they would get together on local or national issues. The Republicans here are much at sea, and hardly know what course to pursue. Will probably vote for Taft in preference to Wilson.

Mesa county: "I received your card a few days ago, and will answer to the best of my ability. The people are not satisfied with Taft's nomination. He cannot carry this county. Do not believe in third party at this time. Unless forced into it. Roosevelt electors will beat Taft electors by far. We think all issues within the state can be kept separate from national issues.

"Understand Me Not for Taft"

Understand me, we are not going to vote for Taft, but will vote for Roosevelt in November. Do not think it good politics to declare ourselves for Roosevelt, unless we are steamrolled in county assembly or state convention or both. We are progressive, and are going to vote that way from president down. I expect to be the progressive candidate for sheriff, and am fairly well posted on the general sentiment. We are for Stewart strong. Believe we can work the progressive movement, and still remain in the old party, especially in Colorado."

Delta county: "I want to congratulate you for the stand you have taken regarding the formation of a third party. I am a Republican and think that if things are not right that we should try to correct them in our own party. However, we may disagree about the presidential electors, we ought to get together on state and county tickets, and get the government for governor, and would like to see John Ramey nominated again for secretary of state. Under no circumstances do I want to see the Democrats win out this year. I think the present administration (state) a disgrace."

BABY NEEDS WATCHING IN SUMMER TIME Their Little Stomachs Get Out of Order Easily in Hot Weather

Mothers should watch closely the condition of the children's bowels, babies especially. Keep the bowels regular and much of the illness to which children are most susceptible in summer can be prevented.

The most prevalent symptoms are constipation and diarrhoea. When waste from the stomach congests the bowels and the little one becomes feverish and fretful, with a feeling of heaviness or languor, try giving it a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at bedtime. By morning this pleasant, mild laxative will have taken effect, and the child will be in normal condition. This simple, natural remedy is also invaluable in checking summer diarrhoea. By thoroughly cleansing the bowels the foreign matter which causes that irritate and inflames the tissues are eliminated. Don't torture the child with harsh cathartics, purgatives or astringent remedies that upset the whole system, and at best only relieve temporarily. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, while positive in its effect, acts gently and without griping or discomfort, restoring normal conditions.

In using Syrup Pepsin for children the mother can feel perfectly safe, as it contains no opiates or narcotic drugs, being a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. By carrying out the disordered tissues of mucous membrane that inflame the bowel passages it will quickly break the "summer cold" that is so annoying. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold by druggists for 50 cents a bottle—the larger family size, one dollar. A free trial bottle sent on request. Write for it to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 406 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSN. VOTES ON CHARGES OF ELECTION FRAUDS

CHICAGO, July 9.—Open charges that, at the Boston convention, two years ago, when Mrs. Ella Flagg Young of Chicago was elected president, the polls were "stuffed," that teachers were enrolled as active members, credited from Chicago schools when they lived in other states, and that their dues were paid by Chicago principals to insure more votes for Mrs. Young, were voted upon by the National Education association today.

The board of directors unanimously adopted a resolution that all reference to the charges should be "expunged from the records, without imputing the motives or impeaching the character of anyone."

The election of officers is to take place tomorrow, and the selection of a meeting place for next year on Thursday.

Plan to Petition Taft to Withdraw a "Flash in Pan"

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The scheme of Republican members in the house of representatives to launch a fresh campaign against President Taft by means of a petition asking him to withdraw as the Republican nominee proved a "flash in the pan" today. When pinned down to it, the members who had participated in the conferences which developed the idea hastily joined the "don't mention my name" club. Those who started the movement abandoned their efforts to show the participation of the regular Republicans and it was apparent there was little support coming from that direction.

Only one of the participants in the formal conference, Representative John B. Reed of Kansas, publicly admitted his share in the proceedings. He said he had a petition aimed at Mr. Taft, and he made it public, coupled with the following statement:

"My scheme was to appeal to Mr. Taft's patriotism and well-known love for party solidarity. To be successful my petition would necessarily have to be presented to him by those who were his political adherents at the time he sought the nomination."

Wanted to Perfect Plans First.

"I did not intend that the press should get hold of this scheme until I had a fair opportunity to try it out, but since it has become known, I prefer that a correct version be given. I had not proceeded far enough to solicit any signatures but had submitted the plan to several colleagues for suggestions."

The heading of Mr. Reed's petition recited the charges of fraudulent nomination against President Taft, freely made by the supporters of Colonel Roosevelt. It proceeded on a new tack, however, by asserting that whether the charges were false or true, they would affect the election, and that in the minds of Progressive Republicans they would result in Republican defeat.

The petition of Mr. Reed has been adopted by the insurgents. While some were of the opinion that premature publicity had killed the scheme, others thought differently and all concluded it would be best to hold another conference when more insurgent leaders are in Washington.

HILLES BECOMES HEAD TAFT POLITICAL SHIP. "SPEAKS" FOR PARTY

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The campaign for the reelection of President Taft will be formally launched tomorrow in New York. James B. Reynolds of Massachusetts, who today was named secretary of the Republican National committee, will do the launching and C. D. Hilles, President Taft's secretary, who was selected chairman of the national committee, will join him in New York Monday to help sail the political ship.

Mr. Hilles issued a statement tonight declaring the confidence of the Republican party in its cause and its candidates. It follows in part:

"The Republican party approaches the presidential campaign with confidence in the solemnity of its cause and in the integrity and ability of its candidates, who represent that cause. Progress with order is good doctrine for the Republican party today, as it has been since the day of its birth."

"Real progress is not a theory but an achievement. More has been accomplished in the last three years under the administration of President Taft than was ever before accomplished by an American president in the same time."

"A distinct line of demarcation between the Republican party and the Democratic party is revealed in the platforms adopted at Chicago and Baltimore."

"Upon the solid rock of the rights of the individual, as granted by the constitution, the Republican party builds its signature of optimism. The Democratic party, on the other hand, in the opening sentence of its address to the electorate, betrays its real quality by denying the right of congress, a right again and again confirmed by the supreme court, to establish protective duties for the benefit of American industries."

"Such liberals are now assailed by those who advocate the overthrow of the independence of the judiciary. It would leave the individual defenseless in the protection of these rights declared inalienable under the constitution."

The subcommittee of the national committee announced the selection of Mr. Hilles and Mr. Reynolds today after a half-hour session with President Taft at the White house, and a few minutes in conference in a dining room. Both were chosen unanimously. President Taft was pleased with the committee's choice.

Summer Activities Young Women's Christian Assn.

The association plans a very active summer, offering many opportunities both to residents and tourists. The boarding house at 327 North Weber street, under the popular management of Mrs. Goldie, provides room and board at most reasonable rates, and is very full at this season. The home is on an airy corner with a pleasant piazza and has the advantage of a number of shade trees. All guests interested in tennis have the use of the court in the rear of the home.

The downtown lunch and Saturday night supper are served in a large and airy room in the DeGraff building, in the very center of the town. The room is decorated with pictures, and the tables with flowers, and there is easy access to books, magazines and papers. The lunch is under the special charge of the director, Miss Todd, who has just returned from her vacation in the east. The regular frequenters of the lunch room agree that they are provided with good food at low prices in a homelike, quiet atmosphere. Strangers in the city will especially appreciate the rest rooms in the association suite. The opportunity of resting during a day of strenuous sightseeing is welcomed by all tourists.

On this floor an employment office for women is carried on, the activities of this department being especially helpful for this summer.

Vesper Services.
In the large assembly room on Sunday afternoons at 5 o'clock a vesper service is held with good speakers, attractive music and a tea following the service. As an opportunity for meeting many friends, this service will be enjoyed by hundreds during the summer months. Next Sunday's address will be given by W. A. Hiller, who will talk about the work of the Boys club of Colorado Springs. This talk is one of a series in which the various social organizations of the city are discussed.

The classes are generally speaking, omitted for the summer. Several physical culture classes, however, are still in session in the DeGraff building under the instruction of Miss Bennett. The physical training class for little girls has proved so popular that the work is to be continued in a second term of lessons scheduled to begin next week. Children between the ages of 6 and 13 are eligible for this class. One of the new departments is the summer playground, work conducted on a small scale by the association. Miss Helen Ayers is in direct charge of the children enrolled, and their weekly play tests will interest all who have kept space with this new development of social service. The meeting place for girls from the west side is in the college jungle. Girls from the Lowell school district have been meeting in Dorchester park.

Camp Fire Girls.
Another new experiment of the association is the recently organized Camp Fire girls. Three camp fires already are started: the Camp Fire of the Blue Bird, Mrs. Rupp, guardian; the Camp Fire of Wistabab, the Robin, Miss May Howbert, guardian; the Four Leaf Clover Camp Fire, Miss Dorothy Frantz, guardian. The activities of these groups are varied, all of them holding their meetings out-of-doors, so far as possible. Thursday, July 18, in North Cheyenne canon, there will be held the first person meeting of the Colorado Springs camp fire girls. The members of the three camp fires will attend this meeting. Several girls will be initiated, and some honors will be awarded. Mrs. Arthur Brigham is for the Colorado Springs camp fire chief adviser in bird lore, and will give a camp fire talk at this meeting.

Miss Bennett's tennis club meets for instruction Tuesdays and Fridays at 6 p. m.

The departmental work as a whole is under the charge of Miss Rhoda McMillen, the general secretary, assisted by Miss Catherine Grogg.

Town girls and strangers alike are cordially invited to the boarding house and to the DeGraff building, as both departments exist for them. The desire of the Colorado Springs association is that all women may find its various activities answering to their various needs and desires.

R. W. B. BROWNING, POET AND PAINTER, IS DEAD

Mr. Browning was a painter and poet of some distinction. His widow was Miss Fannie Coddington, daughter of an old and wealthy New York family.

REST HOME

Last summer there was started on the northeast slope of Cheyenne mountain a residence suburb which is beginning to attract attention from its rapid development. Dr. A. F. McKay, realizing the natural beauty of the location, several years ago entered it as a home and developed the water which only makes such a home suburb possible. The magnificence of the scenery, its accessibility, only one mile from car line, and its abundant and pure water supply, renders it one of the choicest locations for a mountain home either summer or winter, likely to ever be available in the immediate vicinity of Colorado Springs. See advertisement of lots for sale at Rest Home on another page.

Thousands of Fireflies Cause Panic Near Powder

AETNA, July 2.—Thousands of lightning bugs caused terror among workmen employed in the powder mills here last night, following a thunder storm. The little insects, driven from the Kanabeka marshes by the storm, settled down upon a tank containing several hundred gallons of nitroglycerine. These employees saw the brilliantly illuminated bugs near the great tank and immediately scattered, running terror-stricken in all directions in the case where the tank would explode. It required nearly an hour for foremen of the mills to dispel the fears of the employees and induce them to return to work.

That bid includes also the burying of paupers dead in Santa Rosa township at 75 cents each. Another firm offered the contract for the remainder of the county at $1 each.

Superfluous Hair

DeMiracle

Removes It Quickly With Certainty and Absolute Safety.

This perfected method for removing superfluous hair is the cleanest and most convenient to use. It is decidedly the safest, quickest and most inexpensive depilatory known. It is acknowledged the world over by eminent authorities as the only absolutely non-poisonous preparation that dissolves hair, removing the vitality out of it, consequently retarding and preventing an increased growth.

Remember, real danger and disfigurement lurk in the use of so-called superfluous hair "cures." The real harm does not always manifest itself with the first few applications, but the injury is plainly noticeable after frequent and continued use. Furthermore, after each removal, the hair grows out again more rapidly, coarser and stiffer than before, and eventually it will become so coarse that no preparation will be strong enough to remove it without ruining the skin.

No stronger argument can be advanced that DeMiracle is the only satisfactory and reliable superfluous hair remover ever offered the public, than the fact that it has stood the test of time. It was the largest selling depilatory ten years ago, and more of it has been sold each year since than the combined sales of the novelties. The mere fact that fake-dangerous preparations are short-lived, should alone be sufficient warning to avoid the use of any depilatory but that of proven merit.

Don't be deceived or deluded by alluring and impossible claims of imposters. Tell any one of them that DeMiracle Chemical Company will forfeit Five Thousand Dollars if it can be proven that their so-called superfluous hair "cures" ever eradicated one single growth of superfluous hair.

All reliable dealers sell and recommend DeMiracle, knowing it to be the best and safest depilatory. Some unprincipled ones will tell you they cannot procure it so that they may more easily influence you to purchase their own or possibly some other dangerous, worthless substitute under another label for a few cents more profit. To protect you from just such imposition, if your dealer will not supply you, mail us $1.00 and we will send you all charges paid, in plain, sealed wrapper, a $1.00 bottle of DeMiracle, and we will make you a present of a full-size jar of DeMiracle Cream. If you care to, give us the name of the dealer who tries to sell you a "just-as-good" imitation or substitute.

Remember, DeMiracle is the only depilatory that has ever been endorsed by reputable physicians, surgeons, dermatologists, medical journals, prominent magazines and newspapers. And, mind you, every one is examining it if they were not, we could be compelled by law to discontinue publishing them.

Write for free booklet, which will be mailed, sealed in plain envelope, DeMiracle Chemical Company, Dept. 1B, Park Ave., 129th and 130th Streets, New York. You can always procure DeMiracle without argument in Colorado Springs from the Robinson Drug Co.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

THE course that William Jennings Bryan followed in the Democratic convention has greatly strengthened that gentleman's hold upon the Democratic party and the voters in general. It is not too much to say that Woodrow Wilson would not now be the Democratic nominee for President were it not for Bryan's astute and forceful fight in the convention. Even Bryan's enemies must admit, at least, that he is an extremely resourceful politician.

When the thrice-nominated leader of the Democratic party began his fight against Alton B. Parker as temporary chairman Woodrow Wilson was the only one of the candidates for the presidential nomination to join with him. During the campaign the New Jersey Governor allied himself unmistakably with the progressives; during the convention that alliance appeared to be confirmed.

In the light of Governor Wilson's pre-nomination position and alliances some of his recent acts are not readily explainable. Why is it that the Democratic nominee wants to "renew acquaintance with Nugent and Smith?" These are the gentlemen who have fought Woodrow Wilson in New Jersey from the beginning; they are the irreconcilable reactionaries.

Again, how is Governor Wilson's telegram, under date of June 15, to Tammany Hall, congratulating that society upon the occasion of its annual observance of Independence Day to be interpreted?

"I think," wired Governor Wilson, "it must be a matter of congratulation on the part of all lovers of America that the Society of Tammany should through so many years have maintained its celebration of the anniversary which is crowded with so many memories of the inspiring kind, not only for the people of the United States, but for the people of the world. It is upon hearth of this kind that the flame of liberty is kept burning."

Other prominent Democrats sent no message.

No word was received from William J. Bryan, although an invitation had been sent to him six weeks ago; nor was there any message from Charles Clark or Oscar W. Underwood. Governor Marshall, Indiana, did not write; nor was his name mentioned once during the day's proceedings. Governors Harmon, of Ohio, Baldwin, of Connecticut, Foss, of Massachusetts, Burke, of North Dakota, Colquhoun, of Texas, and Blease, of South Carolina, and Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia, were among those who sent regrets.

The voters of the country are suspicious, and rightly so, of any entangling alliance with Tammany. They are not accustomed to thinking of Tammany as the custodian of "the flame of liberty." Does the phrase express Woodrow Wilson's belief, is it meaningless, or was it carelessly uttered?

THE RISE OF THE AUTOBUS

FOR several years an autobus line has been running in Philadelphia in competition with the street cars. It is extensively patronized, although the fare charged is 10 cents, twice that charged by the competing street cars. The autobus has the advantage of making fewer stops, of affording its passengers cushioned open-air seats, of going through a more attractive portion of the city, and of landing its passengers at the curb.

Buffalo, Cleveland, New York, Indianapolis and Chicago, as well as many smaller places are experimenting with autobus lines. Manufacturers of motor trucks and delivery cars are advertising the regular chassis fitted with various types of bodies to seat as many as 34 passengers. The cost of complete cars varies from $3,300 to $7,000. Manufacturers estimate that it costs from $10 to $16 a day, including interest on investment, sinking fund, depreciation, insurance, repairs, cleaning, cost of power and wages. The Chicago Autobus Line furnishes cars for temporary service for $20 a day.

Philip Prescott Frost, writing in The Independent, on "Autobus vs. Street Car," points out that the autobus offers an effective means of compelling street car companies to give efficient service. He says:

"The street railway's franchise has become a disadvantage. Its privileges have become a duty. The trolley must stick to its own street, but the motor bus goes where the business is, asking no leave of any one. If a street railway imperfectly serves the streets it traverses the autobus may compete, following the same route and taking passengers as they wait on the corners for cars, even traveling on the rails which the street car company has laid down and must keep in repair. The desirable residence street which refuses to permit the defacement and inevitable depreciation in property values inherent in trolley rails and overhead wires is freely open to the motor bus. If a route proves upon trial to be unprofitable the bus may seek a new one which will pay better, and no equipment need be abandoned in doing so.

"The street car company collects what its franchise permits it to collect. Motor routes charge what they will and after their charges at will. The Meridian street-bus line in Indianapolis collects a 10-cent cash fare, or sells tickets in quantity at a rate which brings them slightly below 5 cents each. In Chicago the bus fare is a nickel. In some places there is a flat rate of 10 cents, but at present the tendency seems to be toward the nickel fare.

"There is nothing to prevent any man, possessed of the necessary ready money, purchasing his machine and starting out in the passenger carrying business for himself, either in competition with an existing motor route or street car line, or on a new route of his own. It is a cash business and only a comparatively small working capital is necessary."

It is only during the last twelve years that automobiles have been in use; it is only during the last five years that they have become widely used. Starting out as the plaything of a few wealthy individuals the automobile has rapidly become extensively used as an instrument of commerce; the doctor's car, the auto truck, the railway motor car, and the autobus are the most modern descendants of the original automobile. The autobus does, indeed, promise to take to itself a wide field of usefulness. With a removable body it can offer passenger service by day and freight service by night.

FROM OTHER PENS

THE FIRST ELECTION FORECAST.
From the St. Paul Pioneer Press.
It is interesting in view of the complications injected into the national political race by the prospect of a three-cornered contest, to take a bird's-eye view of the apparent strength of the three candidates at the outset. The table presented for that purpose necessarily is based on many guesses and fewer facts. The campaign has not progressed far enough to indicate what is likely to be the lineup in many states. The outlook can be judged only by past performances, and in some cases that has not been sufficiently pronounced to indicate with any degree of clearness which way victory would go in the present contest.

The only approximately reliable data is furnished by the rock-ribbed southern states. There are states that are chronically Democratic. They have been progressive or reactionary, according to who was the party candidate, and may be expected to be so again. Woodrow Wilson is practically sure to get Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

The following table is in no sense a prediction of how the votes in the electoral college will be cast; it is offered merely as a basis for speculation.

States	Roosevelt	Taft	Wells	Wilson	Ful.

A CLEAR FIELD TO MR. CLARK.

From the Kansas City Star.
Every Democratic candidate in opposition to Mr. Champ Clark for the nomination to congress from the Ninth Missouri district has withdrawn, leaving an uncontested field to the present representative. It was a gracious act, even though it would have been useless to contest with Mr. Clark. The speaker's hold upon his district is niched.

He has given excellent service. His record as leader of the Democratic minority and later as speaker by choice of the Democratic majority entitles him to the respect and confidence of his constituents. That another was believed to be the best equipped to lead the national party as its candidate for the presidency in no way detracts from the usefulness of Mr. Clark.

The speaker will have many congratulations for his disappointment in the Baltimore convention. One of the greatest is the esteem in which he is held by the people of his district.

ONE CAN'T BE TOO SPECIFIC.

From the Ocala, Fla., Banner.
Conductor Charles Carter of the Atlantic Coast line recently surprised his friends by stealing quietly away and marrying a Miss De Loach, their marriage being a culmination of a romance begun some years ago before Mr. Carter's first marriage.

These two weeks past have been strenuous weeks with ye editor. The old woman has been creating a rag carpet. Every old piece of clothing in the house has fallen a prey to her shears. ## Center shots

By ED HOWE.
We are all appreciated at our true worth, finally; I suppose we must admit that. But how slow and deliberate appreciation usually is!

Scattered over the world are a few people who admire your ways. It is up to you to find them, if you hope to become famous.

Rivalry between undertakers seems a little more objectionable than any other.
Don't you know several people you would like to "call down?" And don't you hate to do it? Do you hate to talk plainly to people because you dislike to hurt their feelings, or because you are afraid?

What we need in this country is everybody to behave better; reform is a few spots won't help much.

If a boy is as good as I was when a child, I don't believe in hurting his feelings by saying: "You are a bad boy."

Old people have a mean way of sneering about love that reminds me of a man's talk of a Christmas present after he has had it two or three years.

If a man is more practical than a woman, it is because people talk plainer to him.

There is at least enough in love to keep everybody hopeful about it.

Two Kinds of Days

By RUTH CAMERON.

We were sitting on the veranda rejoicing in the glorious burst of sunshine that followed a heavy shower.

Said Molly, the little stenographer lady, with a long-drawn sigh of content, "Well, this is the kind of day I like."

"Oh, is it?" queried the Wants-to-be-Cynic scornfully. "Well, there's no accounting for tastes. Of course I may be peculiar in mine, but it does seem to me that an hour or two of hard rain isn't exactly ideal weather for a holiday morning."

"Course, comrade, the devil is dead," quoted the Author Man cheerfully. "In other words, it has stopped raining. Still, I do agree with you that it isn't just the kind of day I should have picked out myself, if I had been consulted."

"What will you have for a chance?" put in Molly, who had been wrinking her nose defiantly. "I'll go on and finish my sentence. I was about to say that this was the kind of day I liked, because it knew enough to rain and get it over with, instead of half raining or opening and shutting all day. Just think of yesterday; how it was dull all the morning and misty all the afternoon. Of course it didn't really rain once, but it was uncomfortable all day long. Myself, I'd rather have today—one hard shower and then bright sunshine."

"I beg leave to withdraw my objections, Molly," said the Author Man. "I'd rather have today any time."

"And today's people, too," suggested the Lady-who-always-knows-somebody. "Infinitely," said the Author Man, with an emphasis that suggested he had altogether too good reason for understanding the simile.

"What does all that mean?" inquired Molly.

"It means," translated the Author Man, "that we prefer the kind of people who storm hard for a little while, and then clear off completely, to the other kind."

"I had an uncle and an aunt once who were just opposites that way," reminded the Lady-who-always-knows-somebody. "If uncle was displeased with my aunt or any of us, he would speak very sternly, but the minute he had said what he wanted to, he would go right back to his old manner and be as pleasant as if nothing had happened. Aunt never would be half so stern, but she couldn't get over it if anything troubled her. She'd look cross for hours and she'd keep breaking out with her grievances. Sometimes she would make the whole house uncomfortable all day. I was only a child when I used to visit them, but I made up my mind even then that prefer the way the best."

Which kind are you?

NEW AUTO FIRE TRUCK DOES CREDITABLE WORK

The coal bins, belonging to C. M. Sherman, just east of the Midland ice houses, caught fire, probably from a spark from a passing engine, at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The alarm was turned in by telephone, and the new auto fire truck made a quick run, arriving at the fire in less than two minutes after the alarm had been turned in. The blaze was only a slight one, confined to the roof, and was easily extinguished with the chemicals. The damage was nominal.

THE HASKIN LETTER

AMERICA'S GREAT ENDOWMENTS I THE SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

The word scarcely realizes its great indebtedness to those men and women who from their wealth have set aside funds, the incomes from which are used in research and philanthropic work of one kind or another. Little by little those who are supported in their work by these funds are pushing back the bounds of knowledge and discovering new truths and new principles which straightway are harnessed and made to work for the welfare and uplift of humanity. In fact it has happened a thousand times that the scientist has received only ridicule for his pains and the philanthropist ridicule for his munificence. A Langley studies the problem of flight, from every angle and makes all manner of experiments to prove and disprove the existing theories concerning it, yet the world laughs at his "mud duck" and makes so much fun of it that it hastens his death before he sees the principles he worked out successfully applied. A Dayenport in quest of the truth concerning heredity, breeds some six-toed cats, and he is called a wizard and such sensational stories are written about it that he is all but disheartened in his laborious work of trying to give to the human race the wonderful benefits which must accrue from a thorough understanding of one of the greatest of nature's laws.

But with all this, generous men continue to set aside funds for research work, and determined scientists continue to investigate with tireless energy all the clews of nature which seem to promise new lessons and new benefits to mankind, while other benefactors seek to make their lessons available to mankind at large. Hundreds of institutions large and small are working along these lines, and it is the purpose of this series of articles to tell about some of them.

Smithsonian Institution First.

In considering the endowed institutions of the United States that have added so vastly to human knowledge and human well-being, the Smithsonian Institution deserves first place, both by reason of the vast benefits it has conferred on mankind and because of its priority in the field of such institutions.

It is a remarkable story that must be told of the Smithsonian Institution. It came into its present existence through conditions which make it almost seem that its establishment was foreordained.

George Washington once had an idea of a great national university at Washington and James Madison later planned an institution embracing the Washington idea and some others of his own. But the whole project remained no more than an idea until James Smithson, a disappointed and disheartened nobleman, the illegitimate son of the Duke of Northumberland, came to make his will. He drew that instrument in 1826, and in it he willed all his property to his nephew, Henry James Hungerford, providing that it should go to his children, whether legitimate or illegitimate, but containing a further clause in which it was stated that if he died without issue, or if his children died under the age of 21 or intestate, then the whole of his property, subject to a small annuity to a faithful servant, should go to the United States.

To found at Washington, under the name of the Smithsonian Institution, an establishment for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men. Smithson died in 1829, and his nephew died six years later at Pisa, leaving no heirs. Immediately thereafter a law firm advised the American legation in London of the existence of the bequest to the United States as residuary legate. This information was communicated to President Jackson, who declared he had no authority to receive the money and referred the matter to congress.

Passed After Bitter Debate.

The necessary authorization was recommended by both the senate and house committee, but was not passed by the two houses until after a bitter debate. One member of the senate asserted that if an institution of the kind were desired he would prefer that it be established with government funds, and that congress should not individual. He asserted that if this question were accepted, every whig and swapper vagabond that had been trading our country might think proper to have his name distinguished in the same way.

John C. Calhoun, the eminent South Carolinian, also was bitterly opposed to presents of the kind from any one.

He said that every time he passed through the rotunda of the Capitol it made him mad to see the French statue of Jefferson, not only because it was no more like Jefferson than he was, but because he felt it involved a species of meanness which he could not describe. He said it carried with it the tacit admission that the United States was too stingy to purchase a worthy of the man and of the nation.

He also thought that the reception of the fund would be unconstitutional. Thomas H. Benton shared the opinion of Calhoun, and announced himself as desiring that the congress should repeal the act authorizing the president to sue for the fund in the English courts. Later John C. Calhoun declared that he had heard a gentleman say that of all the curses that had descended upon Philadelphia, the greatest was the Girard donation. "Here we are to commence with half a million and no one knows how much more will be added," he passionately exclaimed.

All sorts of arguments were put up against the acceptance of the bequest, even after the president had been empowered to secure it. Senator Benton declared that he objected to it because it would place the United States government in the light of being a moneyed power. After the money was received there were suggestions by the thousand as to how to use it. Nearly everybody thought it ought to be used to found a great university, and the early debates in congress indicated that it was there regarded as given for that purpose.

Government Made Good the Default.

When the legacy became available the various securities were converted into gold sovereigns and shipped to the Philadelphia mint, where it was converted into American money. It was invested in bonds of Arkansas, but in 1846 that state defaulted and the United States made it good, paying 6 per cent interest on the $338,000 Arkansas owed at the time of default. Andrew Johnson opposed the United States making good the loss. He said that the money had been invested in good faith and that the national government was not in duty bound to restore it. He announced that anyway he would like to see a young man educated at the Smithsonian institution, and brought up in all the extravagance, folly, aristocracy and corruption of Washington go out into the country and teach little boys and girls how to read and write. He announced that he would send the whole bequest back to England.

A dozen different methods of utilizing the Smithsonian bequest were proposed. One was for the founding of an astronomical observatory. Another was for a sort of national farm. Another was for a normal school. Still another was for a big lecture university. Jefferson Davis thought that would be the ideal way to use the money. There were prolonged debates, and that the institution established in its present form in 1846 has been the outgrowth of all the conglomeration of ideas that were presented in the '20s and '40s is almost as remarkable as some of the great work that has been done. When one considers the many objections that were raised to the creation of the Smithsonian Institution he is forcibly reminded of some of the objections now being urged in congress against the Rockefeller foundation

DR. GARVIN TALKS ON CHRISTIAN CITIZENSHIP

Dr. Samuel Garvin, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, addressed a meeting of the Methodist Brotherhood at the First Methodist church last night. His subject, "Christian Citizenship," dealt largely with political issues. He brought out many strong facts and placed them in a light easily understood. He said that a careful examination of the platform of the two parties in the coming campaign reveals no great difference and reflects strongly the American ideal of commercial supremacy. The great moral issues of the day do not find expression in the platform of either party, and both parties are lining up on an entirely new basis, he said.

Dr. Garvin declared that the real issue is the massed wealth of individuals pitted against the people, and the question is what are the people going to do with the government when they are letting fortunes accumulate in the hands of individuals? He made the statement that the bulk of our law means practically nothing as it is today. Denying that he has accepted Socialism, he modified the statement with the declaration that he believes the people must find a solution for the social problems and accumulated wealth.

At the close of his address it was voted by the Brotherhood to have representatives at the council meeting today, when the matter of granting the theater licenses to open on Sunday comes up to protest vigorously against the proposed permit.

ON 40,000-MILE TOUR

F. R. Lane and C. E. Goddard of Boston, on a 40,000-mile automobile pleasure trip, arrived in Colorado Springs yesterday afternoon from Pueblo in a light Page-Detroit car, which they have already driven 20,100 miles. They say they are having the time of their lives, and never again expect to equal the great jaunt, which in length is almost around the world. They left Boston April 8, and are taking their time, enjoying visits in all of the large cities.

Their route to date has taken them through the following cities in the order mentioned: Boston, Springfield, Mass.; Albany, New York city; Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Toledo, Detroit, Indianapolis, Columbus, O.; St. Louis, Springfield, Ill.; Chicago, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Omaha, Lincoln, Kansas City, Wichita, Pueblo. They will leave today for Denver, unless they decide to make the trip to Cripple Creek.

Their list of experiences is on a par with the average transcontinental auto tourist, and they are tanned to the hue of leather, and are in perfect physical condition. Their westward route has not been determined, but they plan to take in all that is worth seeing. To date they have used up 13 tires.

BUMPER CROPS PROMISED IN EASTERN PART STATE

According to Division Superintendent F. M. Pitt of the Rock Island railroad, the eastern part of Colorado and western Kansas never had so promising a prospect for bumper crops as at the present time. Crops are beginning to show their bulk, and the farmers are making preparations to harvest the largest output on record, with but one thing to worry them, the fear of a drought, which would burn the crops up or greatly decrease their size.

The local Chamber of Commerce and the Rock Island railway were both instrumental in making conditions as prosperous as they are. The aid they gave this spring to the farmers in the section mentioned was of great value to the agriculturists.

Mr. Pitt states that the stock looks fine, and the crops of corn and wheat are great to behold. One small section in western Kansas, which is usually favored with bumper crops, this year is barren, due to heavy May winds shifting sand and soil.

MAY DEDICATE PERKINS TABLET DURING CARNIVAL

The memorial tablet which is to be erected on one of the big rocks at the entrance of the Garden of the Gods, in honor of the late Charles Perkins, who donated the garden to Colorado Springs, probably will be placed, with due ceremony, during the carnival, in August. The suggestion of having the tablet placed during the carnival was made to the park commissioners and received their approval. The designer of the Perkins' memorial, Architect Guy Lowell of Boston, has been communicated with by the park commissioners in regard to the matter. The tablet is of wrought bronze, two by three feet. Several members of the Perkins family are expected to be here for the dedication ceremonies.

M. W. Purcell Is Out for District Attorney

M. W. Purcell of this city, assistant district attorney, announced yesterday that he will not be a candidate for the nomination of governor on the Democratic ticket but instead will run for the nomination of district attorney to succeed Joseph E. Ferguson of Cripple Creek.

Mr. Purcell has been urged by his friends to make the gubernatorial race, but has decided that he is better fitted for the position of district attorney.

CRYSTAL PARK COMPANY STARTS SUNRISE TRIPS

The weekly sunrise excursion trips which the Crystal Park company conducted last summer proved so popular that the company finally decided to continue the feature again this season. Accordingly the first of the excursions was run yesterday morning. Two full cars made the trip, one from Colorado Springs and one from Manitou.

MASTER PLUMBERS HERE

A large number of delegates to the Master Plumbers National convention in Salt Lake City, are stopping in Colorado Springs this week. The convention opens July 16. Among the visiting plumbers in the city are: L. J. Melson, Sr.; L. J. Melson, Jr.; J. G. Stewart; J. H. Lynch and W. S. Loftis, all of Atlanta, Ga.; F. L. Putnam, W. H. Warren, B. W. Warren and their families from Houston, Tex., and Mr. Irving of Denver, who is being boomed as candidate for the vice presidency of the organization.

MRS. DUNNING IMPROVED

Mrs. William S. Dunning of the Antlers is still at St. Luke's hospital, Chicago, where she went recently for a slight operation, and will probably fully recover soon. Mrs. Dunning was injured about three years ago, when her horse slipped and fell upon her, striking her left knee. Apparently she had recovered from the accident, but last January her knee began to swell again. Specialists in this city and Denver were consulted and finally a few weeks ago she went to Chicago for treatment.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

The Camp Fire of the Blue Bird will meet at the home of Mrs. Arthur Brigham, 1718 North Tejon, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The girls are asked to be as prompt as possible.

USE STEAM TO FIGHT FIRE

What might have proved a costly fire was prevented yesterday morning by Engineer Porter Flint and Fireman James Scoles, the crew of Santa Fe engine No. 2041, who, discovering a small blaze on the roof of a wagon shed adjoining the city street department's barn at 102 West Cimarron street, ran their engine in on a siding beside the barn and fought the fire with a stream of steam until the department arrived.

When discovered by the engine crew, the blaze was rapidly gaining headway, and had it not been for the presence of mind of the two railroad men, the city barn probably would have been destroyed. The shed was damaged to the extent of about $50.

KLENESE DEMONSTRATION AT PELTA'S

A demonstration of Klenese, the modern cleaner, is being held at Pelta's department store, and should prove of unusual interest to the public. Klenese is rapidly becoming recognized as the most effective and economical cleaner on the market, and all those interested should visit the Pelta store during the next few days and see a practical demonstration of this wonderful cleanser.

INTEREST INCREASES IN COLO. COLLEGE LECTURES

Yesterday was the second day of the courses at Colorado college, under the auspices of the Archaeological Institute of America, and many more persons were in attendance. To most people the term archaeology seems to be suggestive of such hazy notions of antiquity that they fight shy of courses associated with that word. Those who attended the lectures the first day, however, discovered that the two learned professors who spoke on Greek and Roman archaeology were able to present their subjects in a lucid and interesting manner, and that the views accompanying the lectures were unusually well chosen and illuminating. The result was that they returned again yesterday, accompanied by their friends.

Today is conference day, and Professors Carroll and Wilson will be at Palmer hall at 11 o'clock to meet those who desire to discuss the lecture topics with them in detail. Tomorrow lectures will be continued. T. Harman Parkhurst speaking at 9 o'clock on "The Tribes of the Southwestern United States," discussing their environment, probable origin, and the problem of their classification. Professor Wilson will speak at 10 o'clock on "The Ancient Cities of Etruria and Their Buried Treasures," and Professor Carroll on "Excavations at Troy and Other Sites." Inasmuch as Mr. Parkhurst gives his first lecture tomorrow, his course will be open to all who wish to attend. Those who have not yet been able to attend lectures by Professors Carroll and Wilson, and who wish to do so may obtain permission from Professor G. M. Howe, who has in general charge of the courses, by applying to him at the door tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Next Sunday evening there will be a public lecture by Professor Carroll in the First Congregational church on "Paul at Athens." The lecture will be illustrated by slides showing many of the public places of Athens as they were at the time Paul preached in the city. Professor Carroll has delivered this lecture in many of the cities of the east, and it has always been most favorably received.

EXCURSIONISTS COMING

The first special train of the "Hutchinson tour" will arrive in Colorado Springs over the Denver & Rio Grande from the west at 9:15 p. m. July 16. It will be tour "A," returning from the east. The train will arrive from the west as follows: Tour B, July 23; Tour C, July 30; Tour D, August 6; Tour E, August 13; Tour F, August 20; Tour G, August 27. All of the trains will be held here for two days to allow the tourists to visit the Pikes Peak region.

HOSPITAL BENEFIT MATINEE

Mr. Hawley and company will play "The Heir to the Hoohah" tomorrow as a special matinee for St. Francis hospital. Mr. Hawley will turn over all the proceeds to the Sisters of St. Francis, thus donating his time and efforts to the worthy cause.

Mr. Hawley has done considerable charity work of this kind in the past, when he recognizes the worthiness of the cause, and after an inspection of St. Francis hospital, which he made last Friday, he decided immediately to help aid the hospital financially, because of the charity work he saw being done.

Nothing But Bargains

THE Tucker Furniture COMPANY'S Closing Out Sale

Last January the Tucker Furniture Company decided to close out their $75,000.00 stock and retire from business. Since that time we have been steadily working the stock down. Two warehouses have been entirely emptied and the lease given up. One partner in the firm has withdrawn and left town. The stock left is still large, but it is so much reduced that it seems possible now to make a rush toward the goal—the final winding up of the firm's affairs. Therefore we are adopting the plan of again making a great reduction in prices—a

Red Slaughter Sale

for the week beginning THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1912.

Everything in the building will be marked with its real value and in addition on a special Red Tag there will be the price at which that article can be bought this week. The expense of continuing this sale is so great that in order to hasten it and thus stop the expense earlier, we are offering

We cannot exchange goods bought at this sale nor can we give credit on goods sold. Neither can we duplicate for you at these prices the goods that you buy. But what we have in stock we offer you at prices that cannot be secured again.

News of Local Courts

Although the divorce business in the county court for June, 1912, did not equal that of the same month in 1911, the district court more than made up for the loss, and the June records exceeded those of last year. There were four divorces in the district and 12 in the county court last month. During the first nine days of this month seven suits have been filed, four in the district and three in the county court.

In the county court yesterday the W. D. Asenough Loan company filed a money demand suit against R. E. Chapman for $316, which amount they claim represents the principal and accrued interest of a promissory note alleged to have been made by the defendant March 15, 1905.

Edna Harper was granted a divorce from Vernon Adelbert Harper by Judge Owen in the county court yesterday, on the ground of desertion.

Suspected of being pickpockets, two men, giving their names as J. Henderson and E. Tullany, who were arrested at Stratton park last Sunday night by Detectives Finck and Gast, yesterday were ordered to leave the city.

In the district court this morning the suit of W. H. Crowl against W. S. Mitchell, a local real estate man, for $9,000 damages, will be heard. Crowl claims that Mitchell, by fraudulent representations induced him to trade a Kansas farm for land near Holly, Colo., and local real estate.

The case of Mrs. Mary McDonald, charged with stealing $22 from Miss Winifred Nichols on June 27, was dismissed by Justice C. R. Lunington yesterday for lack of evidence.

The W. D. Asenough Loan company of Colorado City in the county court yesterday filed a money demand suit against C. R. Hazard for $246.25. The plaintiffs claim that Hazard on June 12, 1906, gave them a promissory note for $100, bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent. Since that time, they say, he has paid one-half the principal and only 15 of the interest. The suit is to recover the unpaid principal, accrued interest and court costs.

ONLY ONE WITNESS ON STAND IN DARROW TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 9.—Only one witness was placed on the stand in the forenoon session of the Darrow trial of Clarence S. Darrow. He was former Congressman Charles McGuffin of Chicago, a casual visitor at the trial, and he was asked to testify to the prominence of some of the other witnesses, whose depositions were read by the defense.

Baby's Voice

Every woman's heart responds to the charm and sweetness of a baby's voice, because nature intended her for motherhood. But even the loving nature of a mother shrinks from the ordeal because such a time is usually a period of suffering and danger. Women who use Mother's Friend are saved much discomfort and suffering, and their systems, being thoroughly prepared by this great remedy, are in a healthy condition to meet the time with the least possible suffering and danger. Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers; it is in no sense a remedy for various ills, but its many years of success, and the thousands of endorsements received from women who have used it are a guarantee of the benefit to be derived from its use. This remedy does not accomplish wonders but simply assists nature to perfect its work. Mother's Friend allays nausea, prevents caking of the breasts, and in every way contributes to a strong, healthy motherhood. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. ## At The Theater

MINNIE LOUISE FERGUSON JOINS THE BURNS COMPANY.

This clever character artist has just joined the Burns company and will make her appearance in "The Lottery Man" in the role of Mrs. Peyton, a comedy creation in which Miss Ferguson excels. Miss Ferguson has just concluded a notable engagement with the Lyric Theater company at New Orleans of almost two years duration, and which is recorded as one of the longest consecutive stock runs in the country.

AN OPEN LETTER FROM THE BURNS CO.

At a social meeting of the members of The Burns company, last Thursday, following the July Fourth matinee, "ways and means" were generally discussed of getting in closer touch with the patrons of the theater, and how to make the special summer play season an endeavor of greater scope than that of mere entertainment. True, the mission of the theater is primarily to entertain, but like the daily newspaper, it may be made an educational institution as well, and without being ponderous.

The appended letter is self-explanatory. To the people of Colorado Springs, "theater" and "non-theatergoers" are strangers in your midst, and the servants of those who pay admission to see our performance, it is our endeavor to serve you to the best of our artistic and personal ability. With that end in view, we ask your cooperation. You will ask how this may be done. Firstly, we invite the honest criticism, not petty fault-finding. We cannot see a performance from the front of the

"HEIR TO THE ROOBAH" AT THE OPERA HOUSE MATINEE TODAY

The word "audience" is stamped on the Hawley company this week, with their presentation of "The Heir to the Roobah." Paul Armstrong's great western comedy drama, last night's audience was twice as large as on Monday evening. Today's matinee will be another packed house as usual on Wednesday afternoon. The production is complete in every detail. The entire cast is seen in the different scenes, and in a most pleasing manner.

One of the most popular book players of the nation will be appearing next week in Quincy Adams Sawyer. There is scarcely anyone in this broad land who has not by this time either heard or read that "best New England story ever written," "Quincy Adams Sawyer," and observed the man driving down a country road to Mason's Corner in a one-horse chaise. These same people are familiar with the words that have appeared everywhere beneath that picture, whether on the big posters on the bill boards, or in the book stores, or in the columns of the newspapers. "The Village Gossip" wondered who he was, what he was, what he came for, and how was he intended to stay. This announcement is to state that the Quincy Adams Sawyer, of book fame, has now become the "Quincy Adams Sawyer" of play fame as well. That at least explains who he is and what he is. It is self-evident that what he comes for is to entertain the theatergoers who will doubtless pack the Opera house next week to see the dramatization of a novel that has reached the phenomenal sale of 2,000,000 its first year.

"HILL FOLKS" AT THE MAJESTIC

Years before he had gone away he had crossed his native mountains into a country where might be measured by other things than the strength of arm and the amount of arms one possessed. He had gone and got cultured; that's what! He had exchanged instinct for intelligence, cunning for knowledge, stealthiness for strategy. He had been drawn for brain, but he had kept enough of the former for emergencies. He had studied the law, and was returning to introduce and enforce it in a place where the only law was the denial and defiance of it.

As he rode along the narrow road he came across Judith, a playmate of his childhood days. She was now a woman, with the tender suggestion of young and womanhood expressing itself in her soft, rosy cheeks and bashful voice. He gazed at her and a dead memory of the young yesterday was resurrected and restored. Then, his eyes fastened on her fresh, youthful, pinkish face, as though they were reluctant to look away from the sweet, playful and sincerely glowing and glowing below. Even their attempt to kidnap Judith was frustrated by a kid who had learned their purpose and communicated it to the sheriff. Determination and courage eventually triumphed over disorder and cunning—so they generally do. And the conquest included the victory of a greater law than that "prohibiting moonshiners."

For one night, while the old moon was smiling down upon a silly earth, Clem whispered something to Judith that brought a sweet blush to her cheeks and a tender glow to her eyes, and Judith said, "Yes."

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR THE LADIES AT ZOO WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY

Perhaps the most popular of the many attractions at the Zoo this year is the bathing beach. This is evidenced by the many people who daily indulge in a plunge in this refreshing pool. Mr. Coughlin has arranged to admit all ladies free to the beach today, and a treat to the baseball game on Saturday, July 13. Large crowds are expected.

Who Said Corns? I Use "GETS-IT"

It Works on a Sure, New Plan

"Glory! Come and See How GETS-IT Works!"

"GETS-IT" the new corn cure on a new principle, works like the touch of a fairy's wand. No more knives, razors, files or other instruments of torture for worn sufferers. No more salves, plasters and bandages that hurt the rest of the toe more than they relieve the corn.

"GETS-IT" never irritates or turns the true flesh raw. It is safe as water. But why how it does get after corns, bunions, callouses, said, "Variety" works painlessly, but it shrivels 'em right up till they drop off, leaving the firm, healthy flesh underneath. "GETS-IT" is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is refunded.

INTENSE ITCHING OF SKIN AFFECTION

In Rash on Leg. Spread to Other Parts of Body. Several Boils. Pain Caused Nervousness and Loss of Sleep. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Effected Cure.

336 W. 26th St., Los Angeles, Cal.

"The skin affection began in a little red colored rash on my right leg, and gradually spread to other parts of my body. Then small pimples appeared and later several boils on my leg. The skin around the boils was at first bright red, and afterwards became dark colored. The itching irritated the nerves. The pain caused nervousness and loss of sleep, and the itching was intense. After using various remedies for about six months I saw how a person affected with skin disease was cured by using Cuticura Soap and Ointment."

"I bathed the sores with Cuticura Soap and hot water and then applied Cuticura Ointment and after about six months' constant treatment the sores gradually healed leaving the skin soft and smooth. Complete cure." (Signed) H. A. Robinson, Feb. 24, '12.

"If you wish a skin clear of pimples, blackheads and other annoying eruptions, hands soft and white, hair luxuriant and shiny, and scalp free from dandruff and itching, begin to-day the regular use of Cuticura Soap for the toilet, bath and shampoo, assisted by an occasional light application of Cuticura Ointment. ## YALE MAN UNDECIDED ON COACHING POLICY three of the decision and who can stand an outside or even a professional coach if he sees fit.

There is still another important element to the situation. That is the strong possibility of Princeton entering the Yale-Harvard regatta at New London another season. Nothing is decided on this point, but Yale and its pundits at Harvard also favors the renewal of its Page. The question of a definite understanding as to coaching may come into an agreement which would be made to cover the entrance of Princeton into the regatta. A proposal that the three universities agree to dispense only amateur coaching is a possibility.

An item has been going the rounds recently that Yale and Harvard may go to Longuepointe another year. Not only so, the yarn untrue, but betting is about even that Princeton will be fourth in the New London races with the Blue and the Crimson instead of their leaving the scene of their regular racing bouts.
